Dear Students,

As a part of AICC 2024, Amala oncology Indo-Canadian Cancer conference, we are excited to invite you to a special conference talk titled "From Classroom to Clinic: Integrating Undergraduates into Clinical Drug Research" to be held on November 25, 2024, at Bro. Xavier CMI Memorial Conference Hall, Amala Institute of Medical Sciences, Thrissur. This session aims to introduce MBBS students to the world of clinical drug research, with a focus on how early involvement can shape your medical career and enhance your understanding of evidence-based medicine.

The talk will also highlight research opportunities in Canada, offering insights into available programs and how you can explore avenues to engage in global research collaborations. We believe this event will inspire you to consider clinical research as an integral part of your medical journey, broadening your horizons both locally and internationally.

We encourage all students interested in clinical research and academic medicine to attend and take advantage of this unique learning opportunity.

We look forward to your participation and are confident this session will be an inspiring and enriching experience for you.

Warm Regards,
